What are my interest rate options?

- 2.25%* fixed for up to 30 years (APR 2.27%*).
- 2.30%* variable (subject to fluctuation) for up to 30 years (APR 2.32%*).

* These rates, while correct at time of print, are subject to change and dependent on market conditions.

All rates are exclusive of Mortgage Protection Insurance (MPI), which is a requirement of borrowing. Eligible borrowers are required to partake in the Local Authority collective MPI Scheme. MPI is payable monthly, in addition to loan repayments.

If you choose a fixed interest rate product:

Your monthly repayments remain the same for the full loan term, making budgeting easier - but you may be liable for a breakage fee if you switch to a variable rate or pay off all or part of your mortgage. (See the Frequently Asked Questions section on page 6, for more details on breakage fees).

If you choose a variable interest rate:

You have the flexibility to make lump sum repayments, increase your repayments or make early repayments - but your monthly repayments could rise or fall over the life of your mortgage.

You should seek independent financial advice on which product is most suitable for you.

3

Are there different maximum borrowing limits for Dublin and other areas?

Yes, borrowing limits are higher in Dublin, Kildare, Louth, Meath, Wicklow, Cork and Galway, to reflect the more expensive property markets in those areas.

How much can I borrow?

The maximum loan amount under the Rebuilding Ireland Home Loan is limited to 90% of the market value of a purchased property or the total build costs of a self build property. For properties in Dublin, Kildare, Louth, Meath, Wicklow, Cork and Galway: maximum loan amount is €288,000. For the rest of the country: maximum loan amount is €225,000. The maximum loan amount is also limited by a Net Income Ratio, which is used to calculate how much you can afford to borrow and repay.

What type of property can I purchase?

The Rebuilding Ireland Home Loan is only available for financing a Principal Private Residence (PPR) for the following purposes:

- To purchase a new, second-hand or new-build property.

What is a fixed rate mortgage?

A fixed rate mortgage is a loan where the interest rate stays the same throughout the agreed period of “fixing” and is repaid by an annuity of principal and interest, combined, at monthly intervals.

What are the advantages of a fixed rate on my mortgage?

The main advantages of a fixed rate on your mortgage are that your interest rate charged is not subject to market fluctuation and your loan repayment amounts are unchanged over the life of the mortgage.

8

Can I repay a fixed rate mortgage early?

Yes. However, paying back a loan before the end of its term may seem like a great idea, but you need to be aware that a fixed rate loan may have a breakage fee associated with paying off the balance early. No early breakage fees apply on the variable rate option.

How are breakage fees calculated on the early repayment of my fixed rate mortgage?

Breakage fees will only apply if the Local Authority (LA) cost of funds rate, applicable on the date of breaking the Fixed Rate Loan Agreement, is LESS than the original LA cost of Funds rate on drawdown of your loan.

Example

A borrower took out a 25-year fixed mortgage at a rate of 2.00% on 1st February 2018. On 1st February 2033 (with 10 years remaining), the mortgage outstanding was €90,000 and the borrower opts to break out of the fixed rate. The breakage cost calculation is:

Amount [A] = €90,000

Original LA cost of funds on 1st February 2018 [B] = 1.50%

Interest rate for LA cost of funds for remaining term of 10 years on 1st February 2033 [C] = 1.25%

Remaining term in days [T] = 3,652 days

Breakage Calculation =  $(A \times (B - C) \times T)$  divided by 365 =  $(€90,000 \times (1.50\% - 1.25\%) \times 3,652) / 365 = €2,251.23$ . Therefore, in this case the borrower would be charged a breakage fee of €2,251.23.

The same principal, in the example above, applies if you break out of a portion of your Fixed Rate Loan Agreement, i.e. partially repay your loan.

10

How long is a Rebuilding Ireland Home Loan letter of offer valid for?

A letter of loan offer is valid for a period of 6 months from date of issue, subject to the terms and conditions contained therein. However, the interest rate is determined on the date of drawdown of the loan, and this may change within the 6-month valid period.

11

Can the Help-To-Buy scheme be used towards a deposit?

Yes, the Help-To-Buy (HTB) scheme can be used towards a deposit. Your HTB Application number and HTB access code must be provided as part of the loan application. Full details on the Help-To-Buy scheme are available from www.revenue.ie.
